RAISE LEVEES FIVE FEET.

MARTIN LEE BIG JOB.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.

MARTIN LEE, April 24.—The city

Commissioners, has awarded Edward Malley of San Francisco a contract for raising the city levees at the cost of $60,000. The incoming railroads will do additional work of the same kind that would cost the city $75,000.

The levees will be raised five feet above high-water mark and will have a crown sixteen feet wide. During the March freshets the water reached the top of the levees and the rule of the city to maintain embankments at least three feet higher than the high-water mark, so this will at least not have to be repeated for many years.

CHICAGO, April 24.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Louis A. Gouldin, the Chicago banker convicted in connection with the promotion of a "fake lottery," slipped easily and wearily to his cell at the Joliet penitentiary as he was at last satisfied that preliminaries had been disposed of and that he was actually beginning to serve out his prison term. His keepers at Joliet found him the most complacent prisoner whom they have received for months.

Gouldin was told that he was at last free to begin his journey to Joliet the last straw of red tape which confined him in the county jail. Mr.

Gouldin and her son had been in the office of United States Marshal Hoy at the Federal building, after he had appeared before the United States court of the United States court of appeals, which was the last legal formality required. He left immediately for States prison, where he will remain until he is transferred to a Federal prison.

The final scenes found Gouldin as bilious and irascible as the first.

He reiterated his assertion that the courts cannot punish him and that he was relieved when the ordeal was over.

"Well," he said, smiling, "they've finally concluded the legal red tape which will begin serving its duty to term within a few hours. It will not last long, and when I come out again,

Uncle Sam will have no further trouble with me. My family and I shall leave the country."

Gouldin was one of the most senegetic defendants ever arraigned in a United States court. With John H.

Dalton, a former North Side politician, he was convicted of using the mails to defraud. When Judge Landis arrested him, he was in the city of RAILROAD RECORD.

REMEDY FOR CAR SHORTAGE.

RAILWAY ASSOCIATION TAKES DECISIVE ACTION.

Adopts a Rule Which Imposes a Heavy Fine on Any Road Not Promptly Returning Unloaded Car to Its Owner--Publicity Will Aid Enforcement.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS--P.M.) CHICAGO, April 24.--Decisive action was taken here by the American Railway Association to remedy the car shortage which for several months has been causing so much worry among shippers throughout the country. The failure of some roads to furnish sufficient quota of equipment for their own traffic and the failure to provide aid to enforce proper rules for the return of foreign cars to their own roads are responsible for the shortage and to remedy the evil the association today adopted a rule to be confirmed later by letter ballot of all the roads, providing that any railroad which hereafter shall not promptly return to its owner, after unloading, all cars consigned to it, will be penalized $100 for each car so misused.

FOREIGN CARS OVER HERE.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS--P.M.)
MONTREAL (N. B.) April 24.-- An investigation by the traffic manager of the Inter-Colonial Railroad into the shortage of freight cars has disclosed the fact that several thousand cars of the government road are on United States lines. The government is endeavoring to have the cars returned.

to be paid to the owner of the car.
This penalty is in addition to the perdium charge of 10 cents, which, after July 1, each road must pay for each car not its own which may be on its lines. In order to make the new rule more effective the principle of publicity is to be invoked through the instrumentality of the so-called car clearinghouse recently established in Chicago.

Through the new rule the chairman of the clearinghouse committee is now authorized to send to each of the roads a statement comprising the information already collected, as to the car location, percentage of equipment on line of the road owned and unloaded. This the association believes will enable each road in the country to know exactly which lines are delinquent in the matter of furnishing adequate cars or failing to return cars to their home lines.

FREE USE LIMIT REDUCED.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
CHICAGO, April 24.--[Exclusive Dispatch.] "The car shortage is the greatest problem confronting American railroads and the business public," is the statement made today by the American Railway Association at its closing session.
It was shown, for instance, that during February alone the supply of cars was 150,000 short of demands and to this extent business was paralyzed.
Drastic remedies were agreed upon, consisting chiefly in heavy fines for holding cars, reducing free-use limit to forty-eight hours, and granting more scope and power to committees whose duty it is to keep track of all cars and keep them working.

The report of the Committee on Standard Rail Sections was adopted unanimously, and the steel rail manufacturers will be told that the present rails are not up to the specifications and that a better and safer rail must be provided.

PLACE FOR COMPLAINTS.

LUMBERMEN'S NEW MOVE.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS--A.M.) MINNEAPOLIS, April 24.--A practical service car department has been organized by Secretary W. G. Hollis of the Northwestern Lumbermen's Association. The members agreed to submit to the department all claims and complaints against the railroads, and the railroads agree that such cases as are presented to them by the department shall be acted upon in good faith.

There are 200 members in the association, covering Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota, and that part of Nebraska tributary to the northern markets.

The plan has been approved by the traffic officials of the Rock Island, (Frisco system.) Illinois Central, Wisconsin Central, St. Paul, Chicago-St.
Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha, Northwestern, Great Western, Burlington, Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Iowa Central, St. Louis Southwestern, Missouri, Kansas and Texas, Mobile and Ohio, Missouri Pacific, Wabash, Alton, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Kansas City Southern railroads.

LAST RAIL ON NEW ROAD.

OPENING OCCURS IN MAY.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS--P.M.) MERCED (Cal.) April 24.--The last rail will be laid tomorrow on the Yo-semite Valley Railroad, connecting Merced with the terminus at El Portal, at the Park Line, eighty miles distant.
The six-mile stage road which is being built from El Portal to the Cascades at the entrance to the valley, will be completed by the end of the week. A thousand men are now putting the rail and the stage road in smooth shape for the opening of the line, which will occur May 15.

Will Submit Case on Agreement.

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 24.-- Atty.-Gen. Hadley today filed in the Supreme Court an amended information in the ouster suit recently filed against the Missouri Pacific and Wabash railroads, alleging stock was held by the outers and, under the Missouri Pacific, giving it control of the Wabash Railroad. The ouster suit was filed upon the allegations that the Missouri Pacific and Wabash are parallel and competing lines, and are under one ownership and control. Attorneys for the defendant companies will, it is believed, agree with the Attorney-General to submit the case on an agreed statement of facts.

BREWERS WILL FIGHT KANSAS.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) April 24.--Representatives of Milwaukee breweries which are parties to the receivership at Topeka, assert that they will fight the proceedings to the court of last resort. They claim that the step taken is unconstitutional.

Three Thousand Worth

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS--P.M.)
CHICAGO, April 24.--Oliver M.
Dennett, a banker and broker, was arrested today on the charge of stealing property. Dennett was arrested immediately after the return of the indictment and was released on a bond of $2500.

There were two counts in the indictment, one charging the forgery of a juror's name who escaped service, and the other covering the falsifying of public records by inserting additional figures to the actual number of days jurors had served.

SAFE BLOWER ESCAPES.

DESTROYED SCHOOL SCRIPT.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS--P.M.) PIORIA (Ill.) April 24.--Ed Tate, an alleged safe blower, who was held in this city on the charge of opening the school-board safe and destroying the N. C. Dougherty script, escaped tonight from the St. Francis Hospital.
He had been in the hospital for several days suffering from blood poison.
Dougherty, a former superintendent of the Pioria schools, is in prison at Joliet for irregularities. The script supposed to have been destroyed by Tate contained, it is said, further evidence of Dougherty's guilt.

DRYTOWN (Cal.) April 24.--The sacramento and Plymouth stage was held-up by a lone highwayman at 8 o'clock this morning about four miles from Drytown. The highwayman demanded from Dennett, the lawyer told the magistrate, "I appealed to Warden Ryan, but he refused to grant my request that Douglas be removed to another section of the prison. If it is impossible to grant my request I want Douglas removed to the Tomb."

Warden Ryan told the magistrate that Dennett and Douglas were as widely separated as the confines of the prison would allow. He did not believe that the men had been able to converse with each other. The magistrate directed that Douglas be confined in the Tomb.

It developed today that at least $25-000 of the stolen bonds have not been recovered. This is in addition to the $140,000 which were found in various brokers' offices and in Dennett's apartments.

There were two counts in the indictment, one charging the forgery of a

up by a lone highwayman at 8 o'clock
this morning about four miles from Drytown. The highwayman demanded the express box and when told by the driver that he only carried the United looking $80 which was hid under a seat cushion.

Alvin Eddy Arraigned.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.--Alvin Eddy, accused of an attempted assault upon 17-year-old Ethyl Hergerton, was arraigned in the police court today before Judge Weller. He was scarcely able to whisper the name of his attorney when asked by the clerk if he had secured counsel. Miss Hergerton did not appear in court, it being stated that she had suffered a severe relapse since her visit to the city prison yesterday, when she positively identified Eddy as the man who attacked her.

PORT DODGE (Iowa) April 24.--C.

dead in an alley in the center of the ing face downward with the head half buried in a pile of ashes. The skull had been fractured. There was no that robbery was the motive.

Druggist Indicted for Murder.

dicted here on the charge of murdering James S. Self and Ernest J. Geis-ler, his wife's brother and stepfather, respectively. Self died, November 19, both under suspicious circumstances.

The lives of Self and Geisler were init is supposed he expected to get hold of the money. Mrs. Bruce secured a divorce from her husband, charging him with attempting to kill her.

Bruce has been placed in jail here.

MANY ROARS FOR DERRICK.

Umpire Very Badly Off With His Decisions.

Fines Portland Player and Throws Him Out.

Visitors Could Do Nothing With Nagle.

Los Angeles, 4; Portland, 6.
After all, it was a good deal like some of these middle-aged ladies with wrinkles trying to act girlish. As a matter of fact, it was a lot worse, for it didn't attract so much attention, for the fans were looking at Mr. Derrick trying to umpire, and didn't think so much about the game. He is a good fellow to go out with on an exploring expedition to discover the exact time the milk wagons begin to get in their daily work, and can out breakfast and beer with the best or worst of them, but he is not as good as umpiring.

He was the whole thing in yesterday's game at the Coliseum, for he had a lot to do with Portland's defeat by such a score as 6 to 4, and in addition he fined Shortstop Station and threw him out of the game. Poor Derrick had a very bad day of it, and was roasted to a crisp by the fans and the Portland players.

Speaking about the game, it was a shame to take the money, for the other fellows were never in it at any time. They couldn't hit Nagle, and when they had chances to field the ball they made a lot of dummy plays. There was nothing sensational about the contest in any way, but there were a number of fine plays, Brashers, Daimon and Casey being the stars. The Lookees were lucky enough to bunch two hits in the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh innings, and in any one of these made enough runs to win.

Along in the latter part of the seventh inning Shortstop Station of the Portland team was called in for a decision of Derrick's and the umpire promptly called him a smart Alec. These little blinks mean anything in print, and they mean a lot to Station, who is just a young boy. He made another lick at Mr. Derrick's glasses, and Derrick stood still for a moment before he threw him out of the game. Donahue at once went to short, and Carson was put in to catch. A few minutes before that, when the last of the seventh inning commenced, Moore was taken off first base on account of his two bad errors and Kennedy was put there, so by the end of the inning the team looked more ragged than before. McCreedy now wished that he had not sold so many of his good players.

Derrick was so bad with his decisions that the fans lost interest early in the game and spent the time in resting him. There wasn't much else to do, for only two of the Portlanders reached second base and the team might as well have stayed at the clubhouse and took a bath. On the other hand, with Derrick making poor decisions and the Lookees hitting Schnupp freely, it was easy to win. Smith opened the fourth for the locals with a single, and easily scored on Cravath's double to the Chutes mine. In the sixth, Cravath drew a base and went to third on Hogan's single to left. He easily scored on Station's fumble of Nagle's grounder, and to the surprise of the fans, Hogan scored while the ball was being thrown around the diamond. He was caught between third base and the plate, but dodged past Donahue and reached home safely. Nagle reached third on the attempted play on Hogan, and scored on Cravath's drive to left. The seventh inning brought the last run, when Smith singled and stole second, went to third on Cravath's single and scored on the throw down to second to catch Cravath. The score:

PITCHER PHILLIPS SHUTS OUT HIGH SCHOOL TEAM.

St. Vincent's Baseball Team Celebrates its Return from the North by Playing Fine Contest—Prop School Boys Also Put Up Good Article of Ball.

St. Vincent's College baseball team defeated the Los Angeles High School team by a score of 4 to 0 yesterday afternoon, on the former's diamond.

The game was fast and snappy. Both pitchers showed fine form. Beamer for the High School boys held the Saints down to six hits, while Phillips for the college did not allow a hit in the entire game and but one man got as far as second.

In the third inning Cunningham, the heavy-hitting center fielder for the Saints, clouted the ball over the fence for what has always been called a home run, but he took his time in making the circuit and the ball was returned before he could touch the home plate. This caused a dispute and Cunningham was given a double by agreement.

Beamer played good ball for High School, while Phillips, Flick and Ammon did fine work for the Saints. The score:

MILLIONS FOR IRRIGATION.

Nation Prepares to Control Big Waterways.

Forestry and Transportation Main Features.

Work of New Commission to Begin Soon.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, April 24.—The Inland Waterways Commission will organize in this city late in April. The sooner the members of the commission get together the better President Roosevelt will be pleased. He considers this to be one of the most important works started under his administration.

The commission is composed of Gen. MacKenzie, chief engineer, U.S.A.; Representative Bachman of Alabama; Senator Nevada of Nevada; Senator Warner of Missouri; President McGee of the National Geographic Society; Gifford Pinchot, national forester; Director Newell of the National Road Commission; Herbert Knox Smith, Commissioner of Corporations, and Representative Burton of Ohio, who, for years, has been the chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House, and will be chairman of this commission.

These men are expected to make plans for the expenditure of hundreds of millions of dollars of the public funds. No government enterprise is of so much interest to so many people. This commission will deal with the functions of the billions and billions of tons of water which are raised by the sun every day in the form of steam and fall in drops on the United States part of the North American continent. That is a big job. It is the size which Roosevelt likes. He has named the gentlemen printed in the paragraph above to look after it for him. The main subjects which will be considered by the Inland Waterways Commission are: Forestry, irrigation, water transportation and water power. At first glance the different subjects do not seem proper for classification for the purpose of expending millions and millions of government money. But when one considers the greatest possible and most economical use of the hillsides and hillsides of the country, dropping down the clouds, trickling down hillsides and flowing to the sea, an understanding of one of Mr. Roosevelt's pet projects will slowly be revealed.

TO STOP WASTE OF WATER.

The waste of the falling water, the waste and destruction, is what forces the governmental attention to remedial measures. The annual flood of the Ohio River broke all records this year. From Pittsburgh to the Mississippi River great and small towns were inundated and the damage was great. The losses ran into millions. Water was the highest it has been in a century. The damage to property and to business, great as it was, is small in comparison to the cost of the waste. Along the Ohio great lakes were formed, many of them in the last few years. The freshets are actually extended for many days before, and after high water. This excess water wastes. It is no good—only damage. It should be the duty of the commission to get rid of this waste by improving the transportation on inland waterways, by reestablishing vast tracts of forest, by establishing large water-power storage reservoirs and by the building of irrigation plants with their reserve water supplies.

Perhaps there are many sections of the United States to illustrate the purposes of the commission, but not any form any better lessons than along the rivers which connect the Mississippi to the Ohio. They show every phase of the usefulness of the work, excepting that of irrigation. There are no public irrigating schemes east of the Mississippi River. The Alleghany, the Monongahela and its branch, the Youghiogheny, begin as navigable streams, soon become brawling brooks, and in the rivulets, their sources.

FORESTRY PHASE OF PROBLEM.

First, as to the forestry phase of the problem. The daylight traveler up the eastern sides of the Alleghany follows one of these streams. For hours he looks out on naked hillsides. Farther away than he can see are more denuded hillsides. Formerly they were covered with forest and the floors of the forests were covered deep with grass and decaying leaves. The ravines were filled with leaves, grasses, logs and underbrush. There were many depressions filled with live and decaying vegetable matter; swamps which were dry only in the summer, narrow the snows in the winter, and the warm rains of spring saturated the mossy, heavy, grumpy floor. The spongy surface held the moisture for weeks and months. It trickled out, feeding brooks and branches of rivers in the dry and hot summer months. The lands were kept moist until early fall.

Now the banks of these mountains and the slopes of the hills are as arid as tin roofs. The trees have been cut away, the grasses have been washed away, the clay banks are as barren of vegetation as brick yards. The exposed slopes are covered with winter snows, the warm spring rains come and the waters run down the bare, naked slopes. In a few hours the hillsides are again bare. Nothing is soaked up to trickle out during the summer months. It all goes at once to make the grand spring floods. In short, the denuding of the watersheds prevents the impounding of the water. The depth of the water in the navigable streams is immediately affected.

Using this same water for power requires artificial aid, but the main result is the same. Dams thrown across the rivers at advantageous points will create storage reservoirs. Behind these dams lakes are formed by the melting snows and uneven rainfalls. This stored water may be used evenly as it is needed and with proper care in locating the power dams sufficient water is available for the greater portion of the year. The energy in horse power of this flowing water is something tremendous. If the dams are of sufficient number and size the waste water is saved to be used gradually for manufacturing and domestic purposes. This work also becomes an aid to interesting in conserving the water to even the levels throughout the summer in navigable streams.

BIG IRRIGATION PLANS.

The irrigating feature of the work does not appear so much in the Middle West. But the same principle of storing water when it is needed applies. In a sense the irrigation reservoirs for the storage of water in the wet and freshest seasons to be used gradually is not materially different from the natural work of reforestation and the impounding of water for power plants. In all these purposes the water is saved to be used gradually. The natural supply is regulated, and so far as human intervention may control, is not allowed to go to waste.

Finally comes the work of better use of the navigable streams. There it is proposed to use, to maintain certain levels, controlling dams which are placed to regulate water levels with an estimated water supply. The usual term for this is the canalization of the rivers. The dams are expected to be placed in the stocking of water to be used in dry seasons. In many cases the surplus will furnish power. In the Ohio River much has already been accomplished in the way of scientific location of these dams. In other rivers a beginning has been made. The War Department engineers have long protested that their work is difficult on account of the uneven supply of water. The more extensive use of these inland streams for transportation is expected to have an important bearing upon the transportation rates. The railroads will undoubtedly feel the effect of this independent competition.

Water transportation is much cheaper—about one-third less—than it could not help to have a telling effect in many sections of the country.

USING YOUR FRIENDS.

How to Use Your Friends to Your Own Advantage and Without Offending Them—A Good Friend Is a Commercial Asset.

BY NATH'L C. FOWLER, JR.

Author of "Starting in Life," "The Boy Who Helped Him Succeed," "Cupid's Dilemma" and "The Psychology of Publicity and Printing," etc.

Theoretically and practically, a friend, or what we call a friend, is an individual who likes us as well as we like him, and who is, or may be, willing to do for us as he would like us to do for him.

It is the duty of a friend to be a friend to the friend of the friend, and the extent of claim of their friendship must be measured by the degree of their practice of the Golden Rule policy. Respectable men, the most selfish, the most disagreeable, the most irritable, the most irrational, has one friend, at least, or what he supposes to be a friend.

The friendship between the two may be of the lowest order; they may be friends in crime only; but with all that, there is as much as a semblance of friendship between them, or what appears to stand for friendship.

The friendless boy and the friendless man will find himself a personal enemy, and place the world at his feet, with an apology to the water for its open generosity.

We are judged by our friends, and rightly so. Friendship does not consist in taking a drink with a friend or in going running with him. It is something stronger and deeper and should have a definite intrinsic value.

While a bad friend is a dangerous proposition, and while a good friend is a valuable asset, I am inclined to feel that one is better off even with a bad friend than with no friend at all. A bad friend is a bad thing, but a bad thing is better than nothing.

But bear in mind one fact, your friend cannot be lifted up by your friends, nor by the application of any other power, to rise above the level of the rising yourself, or the major part of it. True, a friend may assist you; but he cannot lift you up.

Unless you make an effort yourself, and unless you are worthy of the uplifting, all the assistance in the world will avail you nothing.

Even a weak man can have a friend, his friend will be little to him, because the value of friendship cannot go beyond cooperation and assistance.

Our friends are for us. If it were not so, if they could not be put to use about the person they require, they would be useless to us, and, therefore, would be friends in name only.

There is no code of honor, modesty, or self-respect which should prevent you from using your friends, provided you do so for a legitimate purpose.

Friends are for use, that is what they are for. You have just as much right to use your friends, provided you do so in a proper manner, as you have a right to take and hold what you buy at the store. The fact that you have friends is prima facie evidence that you have earned your friends and have paid for them in one way or another; and, consequently, have a right to consider them as legitimate assets, a deposit, so to speak, to be drawn upon as necessity requires.

It may not be necessary for you to keep a debt and credit account, for friendship does not admit of any form of barter. A true friend is as willing to do a favor as he is to accept a favor.

Right here is a point which is often overlooked by the friends of the friends. And one who will not accept a favor, when the doing of that favor will be of material assistance to him, is an abnormally sensitive and probably unbalanced.

The quality or value of friendship is found in reciprocity. A true friend is as willing to accept as he is to give. Therefore, you have a legitimate right to use your friends, and they have an equal right to use you. Do not hesitate to use them. If you want their help, ask for it, and keep asking.

Perhaps nine-tenths of your friends may reply in the negative when you ask them if they know of an opening. Most of them will promise to keep you in mind. They mean what they say, but they, like the rest of us, are forgetful. They intend to remember you, but they are busy, and other matters interfere. It is your business not to let them forget you.

Most of them will promise to keep you in mind. They mean what they say, but they, like the rest of us, are forgetful. They intend to remember you, but they are busy, and other matters interfere. It is your business not to let them forget you.

Remember that modesty, a great and uncommon virtue though it may be, is sometimes a great enemy. We are after something. It is your place to get what you are after, and to use every means to that end.

Even the friend or acquaintance who may be slightly annoyed at your persistent use of his name, even if they arrive at frequent intervals. Nor do they object to a call during business hours, provided the caller is not obstructive and limits his stay to a few minutes.

Ask the advice of your friends. It cannot possibly do any harm and may do considerable good. True, advice is often worthless, and one should not be over-influenced by it; but it may have value nevertheless. Nothing brings out man so much as to request his advice. Most of us are willing to give advice. Some of us are anxious to do it. Asking advice often leads to other things to which we are not prepared to do it. Your friends who know about your ambition, the better you are off. Use your friends, and be as willing that they should use you. Many of the best positions have been obtained through the direct or indirect influence of friends. The more people looking out for you, the quicker you will obtain a satisfactory position. The friend, who may not appear to be in a position to aid you, may be the very one who does the most for you.

If you are out of a position, see, or write to, every friend or acquaintance you have, and do not neglect those who may not appear to be in a position to help you. Write to, or see, them all. The cost is slight, and you have the chance of a new career, or a new position, as often as once in two weeks, but make your call or your letter brief and to the point.

Unless your friends are thoroughly familiar with your desires and experience, furnish them with a number of letters stating what you have done and what you want to do, particularly the forced side of each of the friends from six to twenty-five of these letters. They may be written on the typewriter, or in type. If set in type, print 200 or 300 copies or proofs. At any moment some one may appear as a friend and indicate that he desires one of these letters. Do not hand the inquirer a written or printed statement of your qualifications.

Not only ask your friends to help you, but make it easy for them to assist you. Use your friends.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Rescued from a Dive.

Hattie West, who says she is 14, was taken from a house of prostitution yesterday by detectives. The police are looking for a man who is said to have led the girl astray. She will be kept in the Detention Home pending a settlement of her case.

Would Strike Police Officer.

H. Burrows, a well-dressed man, was arrested yesterday at Second and Spring streets by Patrolman Joseph Miller. Burrows was intoxicated and tried to bribe the officer to release him. He was lodged in the City Jail.

Verdict of Suicide.

Miss Zena Quinn, No. 483 Horticultural avenue, died as the result of a self-inflicted gunshot wound according to the verdict of a coroner's jury rendered yesterday. The inquest was held at the undertaker's parlors of Orr & Edwards. The girl died Tuesday night after lingering for several days.

Bumped on Street.

F. L. Johnson, who lives at No. 213 South Main street, was injured yesterday while alighting from a street-car at Main and Fifth streets. He came to violent contact with the pavement and sustained severe lacerations on the face. He was treated at the Receiving Hospital.

Brutality Alleged.

Because his wife refused to cook pig's feet for his supper, Anthony Kallian is said to have kicked her out of doors, one day before her baby was born. A warrant for his arrest was issued yesterday. The complaint was signed by the wife. The family lives at Sixth and Figueroa streets.

Kallian Will Probably be Arraigned on the Charge of Failure to Provide for his Family.

Souvenirs Are Gold Frogs.

The excursionists to Beatty received novel souvenirs in the form of gold plated stick pins which were distributed to the guests on the train after they left Los Angeles.

The design was particularly appropriate, being a frog of solid gold, the head and legs and in raised letters across the back was the word "Beatty." Five hundred of them were made by the firm of Fredersen who made the dies and executed the work on two days' notice.

Esch of Excursion Crash.

An action for $4,000 damages was begun in the United States Circuit Court yesterday by Charles M. Grow, administrator of the estate of Floyd M. Esch, who died as a result of injuries received in the crash of the students' train with the Santa Fe Overland at Elroy, Ark., on the night of Saturday, March 21. In his suit against the Santa Fe Company Mr. Grow is represented by attorneys J. H. Harris and Harris. Esch was only 27 years of age and leaves a widow.

Jubilee Celebration.

A jubilee in honor of Sister Mary Xavier was celebrated yesterday afternoon at the orphan's home on Boyce Heights. This commemorated the first anniversary of her residence in Los Angeles and also marked the half century of her work in Catholic charities.

Sister Mary is 72 years old and has been prominent in the affairs of the orphan's home since its founding in 1894. A reception of her friends was held early in the afternoon followed by formal ceremonies at 4 o'clock.

Spring Flower Show.

Elaborate preparations for its spring exhibit of flowers are being made by the Southern California Horticultural Society. The show will be made at Morley's rink on Grand avenue, opening May 1, and continuing day and evening until and including May 1. There will be a display of flowers, plants, and carnations will form the most extensive displays, although many novelties are in prospect. Maypole dances and other forms of entertainment will be offered, and the ladies of Christ Church will conduct a tea garden and refreshment booth.

Bankruptcy Proceedings.

Two sets of bankruptcy proceedings were brought in the United States District Court yesterday. One set concerns the Duncombe Construction Company a corporation which three creditors allege is insolvent. The petitioners are C. D. Cummins, with a claim of $147.25; the Tennessee Iron Works, $461.50; and the Pacific Electric Company, $4. The trio asks that the construction company be declared bankrupt. S. J. Finley of Fresno pleads bankruptcy in his own behalf, stating that he owes $2405.50, and has only $150, all of which is exempted.

ABSENT FROM COURT.

Lycurgus Lindsay fails to make deposition regarding mining deals. Police looking for him.

Lycurgus Lindsay, who usually abbreviates his historic first name to the initial "L," a local mining magnate, former owner of the Cananea Central mine and late promoter of the Llanos de Oro Company, failed to appear before Justice H. A. Pierce yesterday to give his deposition in the suit pending at Duluth, Minn., with W. C. Greene. An attachment was issued for him, and officers are expected to bring him in at 10 o'clock this morning.

It was reported last night that he was in Mexico, but Justice Pierce stated that he was undoubtedly in this city, and simply avoiding service. The justice said that his whereabouts are known.

Lindsay is involved in a mass of litigation over recent deals in mines—the sale of the Cananea Central to a stock company and the Llanos de Oro deal. The present suit was brought by himself against W. C. Greene, to settle title to stock claimed by him. Mr. Greene desires to have his deposition taken. Mr. Lindsay, it is alleged, objects to testifying at this time while other suits are pending which involve more or less the same matters.

All efforts of a reporter to locate him last night failed. Repeated telephone calls at his residence brought no response. Similar efforts to get his partner in the Tropic Tile Works and the cattle business, E. M. Duran, also failed. Lindsay maintains an office in the Grange building with a telephone. The present suit was brought in Duluth, Minn., because the company was incorporated in Arizona. They are all over the rights to stock and commission for selling the Cananea Central and the sale of the placer grounds at Altar, Sonora, announced at the time to be "the treasure house of the Montezumas," but subsequently proved to be of very little value. It is said.

ANGELENO PLEADS GUILTY.

Local Banks Asked to Tell All They Know.

San Francisco Grand Jury Sends Agent Here.

Wants Facts About Big Sum Sent to the North.

Far from being through with its investigation of the manner in which the Home Telephone Company secured its franchise in San Francisco, the grand jury of that city seems to have just begun its inquiry. It has sent an agent to Los Angeles to go deeper into the matter.

That body now is questioning local banks in an effort to learn just how much cash was taken from strong boxes here by officers of the talk company when they made their celebrated dash to the north a year ago with $250,000 or so tucked away in a suit case.

Gently, but with a pressure that cannot be resisted, the grand jury has requested local banks to submit their books and papers to an expert representative who has come here to gather what facts he can about the sending of the money to San Francisco.

No one has denied that a large sum was sent to San Francisco just about a year ago for the purpose of buying a franchise for the Home people. It was supposed then that this money was to be paid into the coffers of the city and county.

Since then it has been reported that a goodly share of the amount that was taken north has been brought back.

The grand jury, in its desire to get at all the facts, has called upon the city banks to tell all they know of this transaction.

A communication has been received by the principal banks here, requesting them to submit their books and other records to the inspection of the grand jury experts now here. The communication bears the signature of Dist.
Atty. Langdon and of Francis J.
Heney, his assistant in the investigation of the whole case and he had a deal on to buy an express wagon. He did not come home Monday evening.

That night Paulding was awakened by the telephone. A voice said:
"Mr. Paulding, your brother-in-law is intoxicated at the corner of First and Spring streets. You had better come and help him home."

Paulding asked who was speaking.
He could get only this answer:
"A friend of yours."

He went downtown and neither found nor heard tidings of Holmes. He visited, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the Central Police Station for news, but heard nothing.

Holmes, said Mr. Paulding, "had good habits. He would not voluntarily drink to excess, in my belief. I cannot understand that strange 'phone call. No one of his description had been seen drunk on the corner mentioned. I fear for his safety."

Holmes' description is: Age, 28 years; height, five feet seven and one-half inches; weight, 155 pounds; face smooth, eyes gray; wore gray suit, brown four-in-hand tie, blue cuffs and white shirt and flat-brimmed derby hat.

The grand jury agent, it is reported, already has gone through the books of a number of Los Angeles banks—probably half a dozen of them.

Some of the big financial institutions, it is said, object to the investigation by this expert. Whether or not they have records they prefer to keep from his gaze, they do not relish the inquiry.

So the grand jury is giving them this opportunity to place their books at the disposal of their representative.

Of course they can disregard the request, but the alternative is not so pleasant to contemplate.

Should the various banks decline to submit their records to the inspection of the expert, the grand jury will proceed to subpoena a large number of Los Angeles bankers, who will be subjected to the inconvenience of packing bulky volumes to San Francisco with them, and there submitting to the prying curiosity of the jurors.

It is expected that there will be a general compliance with the request of the grand jury that the books be brought open to the gaze of the agent who has been sent here to conduct the inquiry and to report to the body that sent him.

J. F. Paulding, secretary of the Re-three days searching for his brotherished in Los Angeles on Monday last with about $120 on his person. Mr.

Paulding has made several visits to the Central Police Station, but the of-missing man.

Holmes lived in Los Angeles for sev-

With his wife he came back fifteen months ago and made his home at No.

worked in a grocery store at the cor-in business which is usual at that in every way satisfactory.

Ill luck certainly found William Chamberlain, a messenger boy, last night. While he was giving the crew of the car which had struck him his name and address a speeding automobile knocked him down on Broadway near Sixth street.

Chamberlain is a messenger boy. He was riding south on Broadway when the car overtook him and scooped him up on the fender. A few minor bruises were the extent of his injuries from this incident.

Then Chamberlain told the data concerning himself to the car conductor. While he talked the auto, which was rounding the corner from Sixth street, ran into him. He was bruised quite badly by the motor car, which knocked his bicycle to pieces. Chamberlain lives at been without employment. He had, however, some money in the bank and more invested in real estate. He was far from despondent. In fact, he was remarkably cheerful.

He had always been a model husband and had never spent a night away from his family. His habits have always been regular.

Last Monday afternoon Holmes went to meet Frank Sanchez, whom he had known years before as a boy. Sanchez wanted to see him regarding work in Sherman. Sanchez is night car inspector for the Los Angeles-Pacific and there was a position open with the company. Sanchez and Holmes partic-agreement to meet two days later.

Neither had taken a drink at the time.

TWO BUYS ON TWELFTH.
Property Between Main and Hill Sold at Rate of Four Hundred Dollars Per Front Foot.

The property, formerly owned by E.
F. Mulford, the attorney, on the south side of West Twelfth street between Main and Hill street, consisting of two pieces of property, is said to have been sold to a local investor at the rate of $400 a front foot. One parcel of land is 62x131 feet in size, and lies opposite the old Childs estate, now owned by Huntington, for which he is said to have refused an offer of $2,000,000.

There is an alley on the east and also on the south side of this piece, much enhancing the value of the property.
The other piece is on the same side of Twelfth street, about three lots west, and is 50x130 feet in size. It is improved with a small cottage. At the rate of $400 a foot, at which the property is said to have been sold, the total amount reaches only $44,000, which considered in comparison with prices paid and asked for property on Hill between Twelfth and Pico, of $1200 a front foot, and on Main street between Eleventh and Twelfth of $1800 and up, this appears in the light of a bargain.

The Owens River project received a big boost, speakers declaring it the greatest boon in store for Los Angeles, and the throng of feasters was electrified with enthusiasm over greetings by wire from Mayor Harper, declaring he would have made a grand overture for a score of years.

Well-paved streets and good roads were other blessings it is prophesied this community is soon to enjoy.

The supremacy of Southern California manufactures was placed in a strong light, and the abundant resources of the city were praised by men who have been identified with its progress for a score of years.

Stress was laid upon the importance of greater business and personal integrity than that evidenced by recent delinquencies and embezzlements suffered by business establishments and by the city.

A solemn warning was sounded, cautioning all to continue the vigilance that has purchased the freedom enjoyed by Los Angeles capital and labor, that the dangers from irresponsible agitators in grave. It was shown that much of the prosperity now enjoyed has been through industrial freedom.

C. C. Desmond was chairman. His introductions were hearty, witty, and refreshing. As toastmaster he launched each speaker right into the hearts of Owens River water. Let us eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow we must get down to business again."

Bishop Conaty was introduced as a fellow business man, whose whole life has been devoted to upholding business integrity. The chairman declared he would have made a grand overture, a manufacturer of first rank, and that he is with the association heart and soul. The bishop received an ovation.

The subject of Bishop Conaty's address was "Business Integrity." In the course of an eloquent plea for honesty in all things, he said:

BUSINESS INTEGRITY.
Business integrity is a vital subject, far-reaching in its consequences, entering as it does into individual life and touching at once at the personality of the business man, who, by his integrity becomes the very strength of the community in which he labors.

Integrity is justice and the just man is blessed of God and man. Integrity suggests wholeness and wholenessness of life. Integrity is moral conduct, conscientious living. It is synonymous with honor and justice and in business it is its very tower of strength. Busiment, the controllers of growth, the

In the cause of a full vote, there can be no question of the outcome of the election, although it is well to remember that a two-thirds vote is necessary to carry the bonds, and that the few enemies of the project, working with the "knockers" in the employ of the power companies, can do a great deal of harm if the great mass of voters are apathetic.

With some 3000 members, the Mer-the Municipal League are in a posi-paign. Their influence spreads through every avenue of business and social the great water project, their eyes venue Court completed its business in this city yesterday. The justices have already left for the summer.

Some decision relative to the matter did not come.

Lawyers have disputed the Judge Dunning ruling in the custody of the child, giving him into the hands of the mother, Mrs. Elmer Bagby. They claim that the child should be committed to the state hospital for the insane and do other special may never have charge of the child.

The first trial in whose result the state of Georgia is incorporated, is the libel-venue News label suit against the Atlanta Journal, awarded, with every expectation, of the long lease. The case is being argued in the Supreme Court. The trial is to be before the jury of Judge Smith during the summer.

The trial resulted differently for Francis Higgins, who, with all these bribery hands, might have been convicted. The case over gone to the court, the question would be whether or not the man who gives a bribe is to be in the crime of bribery.

It was said that the House of Assembly may be very unsatisfactory on many attorneys before Henry will find this day.

CORONER GETS
LEGAL ADVICE.District Attorney Tells Him About Warrants.Recent Inquest Findings Are Clearly Analyzed.Criminal Negligence May Be Punished Now.Loopholes through which criminally negligent persons have escaped prosecution were designated yesterday in a communication addressed to Coroner Lanternman by the District Attorney.Although some of the "yellow" newspapers have bitterly criticized the District Attorney for not arresting persons accused by coroners' inquests, it appears that the coroner is really the official who should have taken the first step toward prosecution.Coroner Lanternman has written to Capt. Fredericks, asking the following questions relating to the recent sworn of railroad inquests:"When a coroner's jury brings in a verdict of holding some one criminally responsible for the death of another, is the coroner compelled to issue a warrant, or has he discretion in the matter?"

"If so, what is the form of the warrant?"

"To whom shall I deliver the warrant for execution?"

CORONER HAS NO OPTION.

To the first question, the District Attorney replies that "When the jury finds the death to be caused by circumstances not excusable or justifiable by law or occasioned by the criminal act of another, which means criminal negligence," the coroner has no option, but must issue a warrant and place the party accused under arrest.
"This has never been done by Coroner Lanternman."The District Attorney adds, however: "You will see that the verdict must charge the death to have been caused by the criminal act or neglect of another. Merely stating that another is responsible for the death does not require you to issue a warrant."As to whom the coroner shall call upon to serve the warrant, the District Attorney states: "If the defendant has committed the act in the corporate limits of the city of Los Angeles, we would suggest that the warrant be delivered to the Chief of Police, and out of the corporate limits of Los Angeles, to the Sheriff of the county. And if in any other city in the county, to the chief of police of that city. If the defendant has fled from the county, you should forward copies of the warrant signed by you, thus making them official, to the peace officers of such other counties as you may deem necessary, as prescribed in Section 147 of the Penal Code."

FREDERICKS ILLUSTRATES.

Capt. Fredericks takes up several cases which were recently made occasions of coroners' inquests. In the first, his design was to show the coroner in which cases warrants should have been issued, and those in which they were not justified. His remarks will have a great bearing on future coroner's inquests against railroad employees. He said:"For example, take the verdict with reference to the death of Joseph F.
Bernhart, viz.: That the coroner's jury found that he came to his death on the 25th day of April, 1927, by being crushed and mangled while repairing cars by a switch train of the Santa Fe Railway Company in their yards, and that the coroner's jury found the Santa Fe Railway Company and the crew of the said switch train responsible for the death of the said Joseph F. Bernhart, which said verdict was approved by the jury on the 25th day of April, in the year 1927. This verdict does not come within Section 1517 of the Penal Code, for the reason that the necessary finding to authorize a warrant cannot be found in said verdict. The verdict means nothing more than this: that Bernhart came to his death by the acts of the persons mentioned in said verdict. To authorize you to issue a warrant, the coroner's jury should have found, if the evidence before the inquest justified it, that Bernhart was killed by the train crew and by other officers and servants of the Santa Fe Railway Company. If they were culpable under the doctrine of criminal agency, under circumstances not excusable or justifiable by law, or that the death of Bernhart was caused by criminal negligence, as required by Section 1517 of the Penal Code."It is apparent that if Bernhart was crushed and mangled while repairing cars by a switch train, and that the switch train was in charge of the crew as is evidenced by the finding, some one of the crew, or all of them, were responsible for his death, but they failed to find, as heretofore stated, whether his death was caused by the act of any one or by all of them, by criminal means or under circumstances not excusable, or justifiable by law.

WARRANT DEMANDED HERE.

"Compare this with the verdict in the Isaac D. Miller case, April 3, 1927, which was: 'We hereby find that the car crew criminally negligent for said accident.' That case came directly within the provisions of Section 1517 of the Penal Code, and it was your absolute duty to issue your warrant in that case. I might add that this case, having afterwards been submitted to up and investigated by this office, we would not issue a criminal complaint thereon, but that had nothing to do with your duty in the matter."Compare also the case of E. C.
Stein, April 13, 1927, where the jury said: '... and we do hereby find him guilty of criminal negligence.' In this case you had no option but to issue your warrant."Compare again the verdict in the Boutstone case, April 10, 1927, in which the jury said: '... whom we find responsible for the death of the said deceased.' This does not come within Section 1517, and you are not required to issue your warrant.
Although in this case we have had a complaint issued at the instance of the police officers and will hold a preliminary examination, but we only refer to your duty in the matter. These illustrations, I think, will make the matter clear.

CORPORATE BODY NOT LIABLE.

Again, you are further advised that if they had made the proper finding, if, as said before, the facts warranted it, so far as the Santa Fe Railway Company is concerned, the finding would be meaningless as to the corporation, because a corporate body could not possibly, under the criminal law, be guilty of manslaughter in ter. Only persons directly causing the death, and such officers and employees responsible therefor, under thedoctrine of criminal agency, could be guilty of the crime of manslaughter.
The jury evidently had in mind the fact that a corporation might be sued civilly for damages, and reasoned that it might also be criminally responsible."The District Attorney's office will always hold a preliminary examination where you issue the warrant referred to, and we may hold a preliminary examination even where you fail to do so, upon proper representations to us."We would suggest hereafter, that before a jury commences to deliberate on its verdict, you should advise them as to these facts, so that if they desire to hold the person criminally liable, they will so state in their verdict."LAWLESS FENCES MUST GO DOWN.UNITED STATES ATTORNEY VOICES HIS OPINION.Land Office Will Follow Secretary Garfield's Instructions on This Matter—More Settlers Come, and Interesting Developments Are Observed.Illegal fences on public lands, or fences illegally barring admission to public lands, must go.This is the statement made yesterday by the United States Attorney, and by the head of the Land Office, Gen. Prescott.Said Mr. Lawler: "If such violations of the law are brought to the notice of an office they will be prosecuted immediately. Complaints may be made by a special Commissioner, or indeed, by any citizen whose rights in the matter of public lands have been interfered with."Gen. Prescott voiced his opinion in the same manner. "The Land Office hasn't got it in for anybody, as some people seem to think," said he;
"there's the law, and here are our instructions. We must follow them out."The energetic work of settlers continues, however. Entries were made yesterday, at least one of these being in the disputed territory.There are interesting developments as far as the Malibu ranch is concerned. It is said that one of those intimately connected with the late Frederick H. Ringling is building of his fine road was Mr. Decker, one of the men who has just made complaint concerning the non-accessibility of his property.One of the Sunday adventurers was Actor-manager Dick Ferris, who took an automobile party out to "squint" upon fine government acreage. Ferris is not cognizant of the fact that all the bridges were gone, nor did he know of the generally bad condition of the roads. Part of his way lay across a deep gulch, through a deep beach sand. He also had to fight his way through the gates and at last, when he reached the place of property, he had picked out from a "ap, he found it in his own language—"a fine thing for a hillbilly," but so straight up and down that it would be rather difficult for cultivation."His automobile also got stuck, and one of the party walked several miles to rent four stout farm horses to pull it out. Very late Sunday night the adventurers returned, tired, still and sore—but without any claims on land.The point of law upon fences is very plain indeed. Secretary Garfield's new letter, issued March 22, says: "The Department of Justice will act promptly and vigorously to prosecute violators of the Act of 1881 when definite complaint is made." A United States District Attorney, and you (Land Office men) are directed to take prompt for the immediate prosecution of violators of that Act whenever violations are discovered either by your special agents or through direct information and complaint from private persons."CONFESSES HIS Caught Through Local Police.George W. Brown was arrested in Long Beach on a description yesterday afternoon, and later in the day, confessed to Los Angeles detectives that he is the man who beat and robbed Wong Toy in the latter's restaurant at No. 512 North Los Angeles street, on March 22. The crime was the most brutal of the gas-pipe robberies which have been committed during the past few months in this city.Brown says that he has been in Los Angeles for four or five years. He maintains that he has never been in trouble before. He was accustomed at times, he explained, to eat in Wong Toy's place. On the night in question he and a negro were there together.

He sent the negro after a bottle of whisky and then struck Wong Toy over the head with a heavy iron bar.
The Chinaman the time, was lying in his bunk."I struck him two or three times," said Brown. "I thought he might be dead after I left."The man admitted taking Wong Toy's ring and watch and $25 in cash.
The same night he robbed the St.
Charles saloon of liquor and a revolver.
He sold the watch and ring to one person and the revolver to another.Brown's arrest was made through information furnished the Long Beach officers by the Los Angeles police.DR. PRICE'S

BEVERLY HILLS

"Between the City and the Sea"

BEVERLY HILLS FOR FINE IMPROVEMENTS

—More elaborate, more highly improved, more substantial than any residence district in Los Angeles.

—Wide streets and curving avenues, best cement walks and curbs, oil-tamped street work, palms and shrubs set in the park-ways, four beautiful parks.

BEVERLY HILLS FOR CONVENIENCES

Everything that can add to the comfort and luxury of living. No expense is being spared—Gas, electricity, water, telephones, sewer system. Present car service is excellent but the new subway lines which are assured will bring Beverly Hills within 15 minutes of Los Angeles' business center.

BEVERLY HILLS FOR NATURAL BEAUTY

Beverly Hills is a high elevated mesa gradually sloping upwards and finally terminating in picturesque foothills.

It was selected because it is the most charming location for a fine residence near Los Angeles. Sparkling, invigorating air, view of Old Baldy and the ocean. Beverly Hills fairly overlooks the better section of Los Angeles.

BEVERLY HILLS FOR IDEAL SITES

The entire district—Beverly Hills—is composed of individual and distinctive locations. Your home may face a beautiful park with its lawns, shrubs and gardens—or you may prefer a broad sweeping avenue (110 feet wide)—you can be high up with a location overlooking miles of valley—or chose if you wish, one of the foothill locations for a place (these private estates run from 2 to 5 acres and are provided with sewer, just as the building lots are.)

All lots are big—each different in character and few of them in the conventional rectangular shape. There are special individual qualities to every location.

BUILDING DEPARTMENT—PROPAGATING GARDENS

In order to make it convenient and inexpensive for individual owners to improve property and conform to the general park-like effect of Beverly Hills, a large propagating garden has been established, which supplies all kinds of effective and decorative shrubs and flowers to the home-builders.

As a further saving, a Building Dept. has been established which will make plans and build your home at a much lower figure than you could possibly secure from a contractor.

BEVERLY HILLS WILL DELIGHT YOU

Call at office for free tickets and visit the property. Prices are lower than the property is intrinsically worth. This is in keeping with the general plan—to make Beverly Hills a practical success. Buying a home site, you are indeed making a substantial investment. Size of lots 80 by 160 and up. Prices of lots and up. Take cars at Los Angeles-Pacific Depot on Fourth Street for Beverly.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

HAPPILY WEDDED ARE ELOPERS.

JAPANESE AND AMERICAN BRIDE ARE FORGIVEN.

Letter from Mrs. Hayashi States She is Living in San Francisco. Husband's Father Said to Be Prominent Merchant-Surprise Sprung in Pasadena's Election Contest.

San Francisco, April 23.—Mrs. John Games of Arroyo Drive has received a letter from her daughter, Elizabeth, dated at San Francisco, and stating that she and Frank Hayashi are married and living with the father of the bridegroom. The letter entirely disposes of the supposition that it was Miss Games and Hayashi who appeared for a marriage license in Portland on Tuesday.

According to the letter the couple have been married for some time and are making arrangements to remain in the northern city. Investigations have disclosed the fact that Hayashi is what is claimed to be and that his father is a prominent merchant of San Francisco. The letter also stated that the bridegroom had furnished the desired information and that the fear of the girl's parents at rest.

It is said that the senior Hayashi will start his son in business and will put him in a position where he will be fully able to care for his wife.

Mrs. Games has become entirely reconciled to their daughter's marriage, according to the Rev. Hayashi, who has been helping them in their investigations.

As yet the parents have received no advice as to where the marriage license was secured and the ceremony performed, but they are inclined to believe that it must have been in San Francisco.

POLITICAL SURPRISE.

The Waterhouse forces, opposing a complete surprise when they started off on a new tack yesterday in their contest of the late election. The latest step is the filing of notice that they will contest slight victory which they claim was illegally cast and should therefore be thrown out. The following notice was yesterday served on Mr. Barley:

"You will take notice that the following is a list of the illegal votes cast and by whom given which William Waterhouse, the above-named plaintiff, intends to prove in the above-named trial. Attached in Precinct No. 10, J. C. Carver in Precinct No. 1, E. H. Hoag in Precinct No. 3, J. D. Holmes in Precinct No. 12, C. T. James in Precinct No. 14, Howard C. Cuddy in Precinct No. 15, and Daniel Baker in Precinct No. 16."

The contestants have not given any clue as to what they expect to accomplish by the latest move, but it is supposed that it is their intention to cut down the Waterhouse majority as much as possible. It is denied that the latest action will in any way interfere with that which has gone before, and it is hinted that the present move may be considered as supplemental to the more important one.

Judge Fitzgerald states that under the law it is possible to put a man upon the stand and, under oath, cause him to testify how his vote was cast. It is by making use of this law that the Waterhouse forces hope to show that the challenged voters cast their ballots for Barley.

The suggestion has been advanced that it will be a difficult matter in some of the cases to prove that the voter under consideration was not among those thrown out. The Barley legal advisers have not yet decided upon the matter, but they willingly inform all comers that "everything is all right" and that there is no cause for worry.

TROOP GROWING FAST.

Beginning with next year the two lower grades of the Troop Institute grammar department will be abolished. Such was the action decided upon at the last meeting of the trustees and plans will be laid accordingly.

The decision was reached because of any lack of attendance in the grades for more room for the higher classes. No rapid has been the growth of the institute during the past few years that more room is urgently demanded by the technical and collegiate departments. The authorities are loath to lose the younger students, but they realize that the collegiate department must not be allowed to suffer and for that reason they decided that the lower school must go. Troop Polytechnic Institute is the only institution in the County which has grown within the past few years its growth has been little short of phenomenal.

OFFICIALS KEEPING QUIET.

The city officials are keeping very quiet as to what action they will take regarding the injunction which the Santa Fe Company has applied for to restrain the sale of property upon which the Assessor claims that taxes are due. When asked last night by a Times reporter to give his opinion, City Attorney Wood stated that the city's side would be heard in due time. The claim of the railroad company that the property which the city has taxed is in reality right of way and as such exempt from municipal taxation, is laughed at by the authorities. Attention is called to the fact that the companies have held a large amount of land exempt on this claim and then have in turn leased the so-called right of way to lumber companies. The Assessor is certain that his stand will be upheld in the courts should a test case be made by the railroad companies.

SARGENT MADE PRESIDENT.

At a meeting of the newly-elected board of directors of the Board of Trade, yesterday morning, C. D. Sargent was elected president of the organization. M. P. Green, vice-president, and D. W. Coledge, secretary. E. R. Sover, who has acted as assistant secretary since the death of the late president, was given an official position as assistant secretary.

The election of Mr. Sargent meets with general satisfaction. He has long been associated with the work of the board and is a well-known and respected business man in the city. Mr. Green's election also meets with popular approval. The D. W. Coledge would be reflected secretary was a foregone conclusion. His work in the interest of the Board of Trade has been faithful and sincere and it is generally admitted that it would be impossible to find a man who could fill his place.

ADVOCATE BIG BOND ISSUE.

CITIZENS INDORSE WHOLESALE SCHOOL EXPENDITURE.

Ask Long Beach Trustees to Call Special Election to Raise More Money for Educational Facilities. Restraining Order Prevents Bid for Harbor Franchise.

LONG BEACH, April 24.—At a mass meeting of citizens held at the Pigeon-street school last night, a committee of five reported in favor of a bond issue for $100,000, accompanying this with a report in detail of repairs and enlargements absolutely needed. The estimates include repairs to the Daley school, $25,000; Pine avenue, $10,000; Atlantic, $10,000, which includes a brick veneer for the entire building; Fourth street, Eleventh street and Alameda Heights schools, $10,000.

The committee also advised the expenditure of $40,000 for a ten-room schoolhouse at Sunset and the new school site north of Signal Hill, and $10,000 for an eight-room temporary addition and repairs to the present High School building. The report was adopted, and the Trustees asked to call a special election to raise the money.

The matter of a new High School site was discussed, but no action was taken. It being generally conceded that the location is the local one, and that when the proper time comes can be purchased for a nominal sum, as both departments of the school system are only technically separate. In this event additional grammar school sites can be placed wherever population requires them.

SUBMIT NO BID.

A franchise for 100 feet of waterfront at Terminal Island offered for sale by the City Trustees at the request of the Craig Ship Plant, which desired to build a temporary dry dock under the water. The franchise was not disposed of last night, the Craig people appearing before the Trustees and stating that for reasons they had prepared no bid, but would pay the advertising bill and let the matter drop.

The restriction of this action, serving of papers on Mayor Downs and the Trustees restraining them from exercising any jurisdiction over the terminal island and East San Pedro, pending the quo warranto proceeding to determine the legality of the restriction, had been ordered by Judge Bordwell and will come up for hearing May 4.

APPROVE PLANS.

The City Trustees have endorsed the application of the Imperial Investment Company to the War Department for permission to dredge a channel in the west basin of Wilmington harbor, but deferred for a week action on the request of the company for lease of certain lands over which the city claims jurisdiction, lying between Long Beach and the terminal island.

The dredging operations of the Dock and Terminal Company have stopped the outfall pipes of the sewer system and destroyed the electric motors of the sewage disposal plant. The city has been instructed to approach the company for damages.

The Woodbury Business College of Los Angeles will have a picnic on Friday of this week. The New Jersey Societies of Los Angeles are one of the best known and most respected business men in the city. Mr. F. Green's election also meets with popular approval. The D. W. Coledge would be reflected secretary was a foregone conclusion. MISS WINGARD A BRIDE.

Under Wedding Bell of White Roses She Becomes Mrs. R. G. Schoenberger.

LONG BEACH, April 24.—A charming wedding was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Margaret Wingard, No. 640 East First street this evening when Rev. A. M. Wynne performed the ceremony which made Miss Agnes Wingard the wife of Richard G. Schoenberger. The house was profusely decorated with ferns and roses and white wedding bells were suspended from the ceiling. The bride wore a gown of white tulle and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridegroom was in a tuxedo. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. M. Wynne, pastor of the First Baptist Church. The wedding was attended by a large number of guests.

See that the voting of the bonds means an abundance of water, and that plenty of water means the life and future progress of the city.

At yesterday's meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the letter of the Merchants and Manufacturers' Association was received and discussed. No time was wasted in reaching a conclusion.

The request was that the Chamber appoint a special committee to act with a similar committee of the M. and M. and from the Municipal League, in the formulation of plans for the prosecution of a campaign in favor of the Owens River bond issue.

The directors authorized President W. D. Stephens to name a committee in accordance with the suggestion.

ASSURES SUCCESS. "I have not yet decided who to name on the committee," said Mr. Stephens, "nor have I determined upon the number of its members. I am, however, thoroughly with the timeliness and importance of the suggestion. It is an excellent plan for assuring the success of the bond election."

Other directors of the chamber expressed themselves in similar vein. The letter upon which they acted is as follows:

"LOS ANGELES, April 20, 1927. 'Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles. 'Gentlemen: I have been instructed by the Board of Directors of this association to appoint a special committee to act with a similar committee of the Municipal League for the purpose of formulating plans for the prosecution of a campaign in favor of the Owens River bond election."

"The board believes that it is of the most vital importance that the merchants and employers of this city take an active part in the campaign in favor of the bond issue, in order to bring out a full vote, and influence, if possible, the election."

"If favorable action is taken by your organization, kindly appoint a committee at once, and we will welcome the opportunity to put a final stop to the yelping of the whipper-snapper opponents of the great water project."

Respectfully yours, "F. J. ZEEHANDELAAR, Secretary."

A similar letter was sent to the Municipal League, and that organization has also taken steps to appoint a special committee that is to act with the general committee.

STRONG CAMPAIGN FORCE. Made up of representatives of citizens and business men, this joint committee will be a powerful force. It is expected that it will perfect an organization throughout the city, with workers in every voting precinct.

One suggestion that probably will be acted upon by the joint committee pertains to the districting of the city by ward and precinct, with a manager for each subdivision.
